Are you looking for relief from the demands of school, parents, teachers, peers or just everyday life? A new group will be meeting in the Auditorium during CruCon starting this Friday, September 14th and will meet just about every other Friday there on. It's called Crusader Wellness and will have sessions built around developing coping skills to deal with the challenges of just being a kid, connecting with new friends and strengthening old friendships. There will be great topics of discussion important and useful to your life, fun, and prize drawings for those that regularly attend. Come on over to the auditorium this Friday during CruCon and see what all the excitement surrounding CRUSADER WELLNESS is all about. Every session is open to all that are interested.
